

Hayastan Stepanyan, Policy Research Expert

Hayastan Stepanyan, has over 30 years of experience as a lawyer and more than 20 years of experience as a manager and consultant for the housing, urban development, real estate, local democracy, social security, water issues, and municipal management sectors.

Particularly, she acted as a manager and expert for a number of international development projects funded by Habitat for Humanity, USAID, SDC, UNHCR, ADB, WB, Council of Europe KfW and UNDP related to real estate and housing (earthquake, refugee housing, housing finance and housing management and maintenance), decentralization, water and waste management, and social issues. She also provides legal consultancy for the Urban Foundation. Hayastan Stepanyan is an author/co-author of number of publications and legal reviews related to the aforementioned sectors.